Can you elaborate further? Why is insured disputing? From the sketch in the GIA report, it means that Insured has right-of-way.

Are you able to tell from the damage pattern whose version is more credible? Before you proceed settlement, insured's issue has to be add

Dear Ms Li Li,

We refer to the below emails.

It was reported that the Insured vehicle was inching out towards the junction when involved in an accident with TP.

We had spoken to the Insured before where he confirmed accident details but denied full liability of the accident. We did explain to Insured before with re issue but he doesn't want to settle the claim. There were no further evidence available from Insured.

Based on the circumstances of the accident, we are of the opinion that the liability is not to the Insured's favour.

TP claimant is also chasing for this matter.

The finalized COR after inspection is $650 (labour only) with 2 recommended working days.

As such, kindly advise if we can proceed to settle the TP claim at best and/or for your further instructions please.

Thank you.
