Hi Siti,

Thank you for calling earlier.

The following are photos of the opposite party car.

Please have a look as a reference when they claim. There were no bang sound when i jam brake in time so I am really not sure if this is cause by me or the old lady who rented this car cause this damage herself and take me as a scapegoat. When the incident happen she drove off and I get no chance to even see if my car did rub into her car until I horn her to stop her car at the side but I've file in my explanation in report briefly.

Please inspect carefully & do not allow them to overclaim.

Thank you.

Regards,
Jasmine Png
