Dear Jia Yu,

Our comment are as below.

- (i) Rim replacement +Tyre Replacement + labour - $900+$470.80=$1370.80 – Rim replacement at similar price as affected rim. Tyre not affected by incident not payable
- (ii) Wheel Alignment (by Mova) - done today 13/3/18 - Approved
- (iii) Ceramic coating & polishing - $1488 – Subject to receipt proof of coating and polishing done before incident. Bumper and side skirt approved
- (iv) Repair of boot & side skirt (by Mova) - Approved
- (v) Replacement car during repair (by Mova) - $?? – Considered as uninsured loss and insurer to follow up. To quantify after completion of repair
(Will rent from outside if no compatible car available)
- (vi) 3 trips to reporting centre (to and fro from Ghim Moh) - Considered as uninsured loss and insurer to follow up. To quantify after completion of repair

Hi,

I will make the following claims against SJS4683E (which is 100% liable) :

- (i) Rim replacement +Tyre Replacement + labour - $900+$470.80=$1370.80
- (ii) Wheel Alignment (by Mova) - done today 13/3/18
- (iii) Ceramic coating & polishing - $1488
- (iv) Repair of boot & side skirt (by Mova) - $??
- (v) Replacement car during repair (by Mova) - $??
(Will rent from outside if no compatible car available)
- (vi) 3 trips to reporting centre (to and fro from Ghim Moh)
- 4.8km x 2 (to & fro) x 3 = 28.8km => cost 28.8/7* x 2.58 = $10.60
*fuel consumption 7 km/l
 petrol cost per litre

Attached are the supporting documents.

Please ask insurer / surveyor to contact me directly if they are not allowing any of the above claims.

For your action

Thanks.

Hi Nitha,

As spoken, I CANNOT agree to the 50-50% liability.

I am providing the following arguments in support:

(i) Since there is no dispute over the positions of our cars and the stationary car in front of SJS4683E at that time, it is a ridiculous claim by SJS4683E that I am changing lane to hers. Kindly note that there is no stationary car in front of my car in my lane at that time, which lends weight to my counter claim.

(ii) Also my car was hit at the right rear wheel and right back side, while SJS4683E was hit at the front, it is impossible for me to watch out her car since her car is behind mine. Hence, it cannot be my liability as it is all drivers responsibility to keep their watch in front and to keep their safe distance from cars at the front,.

Please let me know if you need further info.

Thanks.
