Dear Vic,

Based on the reports and damage patterns, liability is not in favor due to several factors:

- Insured vehicle's damage was not center but RHS of rear bumper;
- Insured admitted turning out from junction;
- TP driver being sick / did not switch on headlights were not supported by evidence.

Kindly manage insured's expectation and please acquire video footage again to review accordingly. However, there is high chance where we have to settle at best for this. Please keep me posted.

Thanks for the update!

Best regards,

Chan Kian Meng

Dear Kian Meng,

We refer to your below email.

It was reported that Insured was hit behind by TP vehicle.

Our Insured had denied liability for this matter and we are still yet to receive any evidence from the Insured.

TP also did not provide any video footage. The latest email from TP on 06/06/2018 as attached.

In view of damages to both vehicle, please advise if we follow BOLA 27 as Insured may have likely completed the turn or due to conflicting versions and/or for your further instruction.

Thank you.
