Dear Pau Loong

Please see attached. Impact was only to right half of the other vehicle's rear bumper, with only minor denting and paint chipping. There were existing scratches on the left half of the bumper.

You can see that the other vehicle is also some distance past the stop line, which I believe supports my view that the driver jam-braked dangerously close to the stop line and likely managed to stop only past the stop line.

Due the file size of the attachments and mailbox size limits, further photos will follow in separate emails.
