Brief Details

I was turning right from Thomson Road in the direction of Braddell Road after stopping at the red light. The accident happened just beyond the dual bus stop under the Lorie flyover and pedestrian overhead bridge after the light turned green and I was accelerating off. The rear of my car suddenly swerved outwards mid turn and I corrected the direction and the car swerved the other way and hit the guardrail after the bus stop underneath the pillar of the over head pedestrian bridge.

There was a wet patch on the road just under the flyover, which I saw after I exited the car, which was different from the trickle of liquid from my car but the rest of the road was dry. I did not touch the road, so not sure if it was water or oil.

There was a dent on the railing but no other damage to public structures.

No other vehicle was hit and no other persons were involved.

The ambulance was activated by a member of the public who thought I was unconscious but I was just looking for my glasses which had fallen off after which I exited the car.

I sustained minor contusions to my left hand and abrasions from my watch hitting my wrist and one foot hitting the other. This was checked in Mount Alvernia Hospital, which I walked to after the police officer cleared me to leave.

The paramedic had thought that my ECG was abnormal and required me to sign the refusal of conveyance to hospital, but it was probably due to high adrenaline level and heart rate after the accident and this was confirmed later in MAH A&E where my ECG and blood pressure had returned to normal.
