Ref: TP/IP/03551/2019

This stretch of Rangoon Road was a dual carriage way, with one lane in each direction. I was trying to turn right into Kent Road. However, despite me signalling my intention, the vehicles behind me kept overtaking me on the right. I saw an opportunity to turn as SKN8383M was, in my judgement, still a distance away. I was hoping that with my right turn signal and my car edging right, the driver would slow down and allow me to turn. However, the driver did not slow down, and I heard a very loud honk from the driver, and felt a very slight bump at the rear of my car. I knew that the driver had hit my car, but it was a very light touch. As such, I continued turning into Kent Road, but at a slow pace to check if the driver had come out of the car. Instead I saw that SKN8383M continued on its journey. When I parked my car, I noticed some scratches at the right rear of my car; but it was not serious at all and there was no dent. As such I decided not to pursue the matter, as I felt that SKN8383M was driving dangerously, should have slowed down and not attempt to overtake me on the right. I have a video and photo exceeding 2MB and I will send to Kaleswari Palani as instructed in the traffic police letter.
