Brief Details.

I was driving back from CNB HQ on the SLE(extreme right lane) and after passing the junction with Upper Thomson Road, there was a right bend ahead. I accidentally over steered and end up grazing the right side of the vehicle against the central divider for about 2 seconds before i steered the car straight. I then filtered and stopped at the road shoulder after a few hundred meters away. The traffic at that time was light. I doubled back 3 times to view the metal divider along that stretch but i was unable to detect exact location that i had grazed because the metal divider along that stretch did not look different.
