right of way, but should keep a lookout for vehicles turning across his path at the junction. Driver Y should also take evasive action to avoid a collision. Driver X making the right turn should give way to oncoming traffic from the opposite direction.³⁹

(c)

Reason(s): Driver X should not overtake from the right at a road junction by travelling against the flow of traffic. Driver Y's attention is focused on oncoming traffic and he may not foresee that Driver X would cross his path from the rear. Driver Y should signal his intention to turn right and check also for vehicles overtaking from the rear.⁴⁰
