Thanks for the summary.

As shared earlier, please arrange for the survey with TPWS to survey the vehicle.

Once finalized, submit the report and LOD to myself and I will settle with the TPWS on this matter.

Do help to do the necessary to ensure that the TPWS is not overclaiming.

Well done and have a good weekend ahead.

Thanks and Regards
Jeremy

Dear Jeremy

As mentioned earlier,

We have contacted OI (MR LEE) to find out what's his Third Party claim status is. However, he is not aware that he is claiming against TP. He mention that he wanted to repair his car on his own expenses initially.

We have explained to him that the Third Party has chosen to litigate the matter, which means that in the event if we lose the case, we will have to foot the legal fees and on top have to recover a Section 2 excess from him at $2,140.00 (inclu 7% gst). And there is a high possibility we will lose the case as it has been observed that SMQ 5831 M is not at the stop line.

OI is aware that it would be resolved at equal liability.

Thank you.

Hi Jaslin,

I had a talk with Jessie from Efficient Motor & Engineering Pte Ltd.

After speaking with her, I am of the opine that liability is not in our favor, but Efficient Motor & Engineering Pte Ltd is open to settling the case at between 50-100%, quantum to be decided.

I would need your help to speak with Insured driver SMQ 5841 M on this matter.

Firstly, find out what his Third Party claim status is, has it been resolved or liability has been confirmed by the other party.

Explain to him that the Third Party has chosen to litigate the matter, which means that in the event if we lose the case (which is high possibility), we will have to foot the legal fees and on top have to recover a Section 2 excess from him at $2,140.00 (inclu 7% gst).

However, should he withdraw the Third Party claim and proceed to claim OD insurance, under the policy condition, he is able to get a 50% waiver of his Section 1 excess, which amounts to around $963.00 (inclu of 7 % gst).

216. In-car Camera Excess Waiver

If You have installed an in-car camera in Your Vehicle, the Excess applicable to Part B Section 1 of this Policy will be waived if You are not at fault for the accident and the accident is covered under this Policy.

If you are at fault for the accident and the accident is covered under this Policy, the Excess applicable to Part B Section 1 of this Policy will be reduced by 50%.

The following conditions apply to both a full and partial waiver of the Excess as set out above:-

- Your Vehicle is involved in the accident with another vehicle
- You must provide the relevant video footage of the accident that You are involved in to us within 3 working days from the date of the accident;
- The repair of the Vehicle is carried out by one of our approved workshops;
- The assessment of liability has been finalised by Us by the time You collect Your Vehicle post repair; and
- The waiver shall only apply up to a maximum amount of $1,000.00 above which, You will be responsible for the rest of the Excess

Now do explain to him, that we as his insurer is trying to mitigate the cost of the claim. The Third party is intending to let the matter slide, if we are able to withdraw SMQ 5841 M Third Party claim. If we are to contest, base on the scene photo provided by the Third Party, there is a high possibility we will lose the case as it has been observed that SMQ 5831 M is not at the stop line.

Do contact Insured immediate and update me after the conversation. Let me know if there is any clarification needed.

Thanks and Regards

Jeremy Goh

Dear LKK team,

I make reference to the case above.

Can I get an update on the case above?

I understand that it was initially a SJE direct settlement with "Efficient Motor & Engineering Works Pte Ltd".

How did it become a PRI with Vision Law LLC involved in this matter.

Can the case handler contact me, I would like to find out what happened.

As well, has Insured been informed of this matter?

Thanks and Regards

Jeremy Goh
