Report No. E/20210331/7029

When I return the next day, after I drive out from the parking lot 280 at about 650am on 29 Mar 2021, I noticed my rear windscreen was shattered as I checked my rear view mirror. I parked my car at the drop off porch to investigate. I found wooden debris around the affected area inside the car as well as a dent on the rear boot cover with wooden marks. Suspected the wooden branch from the tree had dropped down and smash the rear windscreen. I had noticed another incident previously on another car where the branch drop and dent the front engine bonnet of a Nissan sedan.

The damaged involved is a shattered rear windscreen, with the interior panels popped out and dent boot. No one was injured in the incident.

The search on car dash cam did not review any footage as it was not recording, probably power saving mode.
