Medical Report for ONG POH MENG - S7109195C

Mr Ong is a 50-year old man, who works as an accident surveyor. He was involved in a car accident in 2009, during which he was the driver (his car hit a taxi that was making a U-turn). He suffered neck, back and right shoulder injuries during that accident. MRI done then did not show any tendon tears or fractures of the right shoulder. He underwent physiotherapy after the accident. He made good recovery for the neck and back injuries, but had residual weakness in the right shoulder. He was not able to return to the gym for weight training after the accident. The range of motion of the accident was restored after the physiotherapy.

He was also involved in a recent accident on 18 June 2021, at 1030H. He was driving his car (seat-belt on) and was slowing down to a stop (because the car in front was slowing down), when his car was rear-ended by a taxi. His car then hit the car in front. No airbags were activated. He felt his body thrown forward and then backwards on impact.

Immediately after the accident, he started feeling neck and back pain. Pain score was 4/10. There was no upper limb numbness. There was mild aggravation of the previous right shoulder pain.

He sought medical attention at Mount Alvernia Hospital on the same day. No X rays were done. He was given pain medication and 5 days of medical leave.

Within the next few days, his neck and back pain started to get worse. Pain score was 7/10. His neck pain also started radiating to his occiput/back of his head as well.

He took the medication given to him by Mount Alvernia Hospital for his symptoms.

I reviewed Mr Ong on 29 June 2021. The condition of his injuries were as follows:

1. Neck pain: His pain had slightly improved - pain score was 4/10. The pain occurred mainly at night when he was doing his deskwork in the evening, after 30 minutes of typing on the computer (when he was doing his reports for his field work). There was no upper limb weakness, and no change in bladder or bowel habits.
2. Back pain: The back pain had improved, and he was able to jog. However, he had back pain (pain score of 3/10) during exercise. There was no lower limb numbness.
3. Right shoulder pain: There was no more right shoulder pain at the time of my review.

On examination:

1. Mr Ong was alert and had a stable gait.
2. Neck/cervical spine:
 - a. There was axial tenderness, but no paracervical or trapezial tenderness/spasm.
 - b. Range of motion: Flexion 45 degrees (painful); extension 45 degrees; rotation 70 degrees bilaterally; lateral flexion 30 degrees bilaterally.
 - c. Upper limb neurological examination was unremarkable.
3. Back/lumbar spine:
 - a. There was axial tenderness, and right side paravertebral tenderness with spasm, and right lumbar facet joint tenderness (especially at the L5/S1 level).
 - b. Range of motion: Flexion 90 degrees; extension 30 degrees; rotation 30 degrees bilaterally; lateral flexion 30 degrees bilaterally.
 - c. Lower limb neurological examination was unremarkable.
4. MRI of the cervical spine on 6 July 2021 showed:
 - a. Cervical spondylosis without established T2W hyperintensity in the cervical spinal cord. No prevertebral soft tissue swelling was noted. Interspinous soft tissues returned relatively normal signal intensity. No displaced spinal process fracture was seen. No vertebral fracture was seen. No facet joint dislocation was seen.
 - b. Loss of cervical lordosis implying muscle spasm was seen. Posterior high signal intensity zone at C3/C4 and C5/C6 suggestive of annular tears was seen. No sequestered disc fragment was seen.

- c. C4/C5 left paracentral disc protrusion resulting in mild to moderate narrowing of the left exit foramen was seen. The right exit foramen and central canal were patent.
 - d. C5/C6 generalised disc bulge with left paracentral disc protrusion resulting in moderate to severe narrowing of the left exit foramen was seen. The right exit foramen was mildly narrowed. The central canal was patent.
 - e. C6/C7 left paracentral disc protrusion resulting in moderate narrowing of the left exit foramen was seen. The right exit foramen was mildly narrowed.
 - f. Opinion: The above findings are consistent with pre-existing degenerative cervical spondylosis.
5. MRI lumbar spine on 6 July 2021 showed:
- a. L4/L5 generalised disc bulge indenting the anterior epidural space was seen. This was associated with facet joint arthrosis and ligamentum flavum buckling. Moderate to severe narrowing of both lateral recesses was seen. The exit foramina were moderately narrowed bilaterally. Central canal was indented upon.
 - b. L5/S1 generalised disc bulge indenting the anterior epidural space was seen. This was associated with facet joint arthrosis and ligamentum flavum buckling. Moderate to severe narrowing of both lateral recesses was seen. The exit foramina were mildly to moderately narrowed bilaterally. Central canal was indented upon. Annular tear was in contact with descending left S1 nerve root. No transitional L5 transverse process was seen.
 - c. T2 W hyperintense foci in posterior aspects of L4/L5 and L5/S1 discs suggestive of annular tears was seen. No sequestered disc fragment was seen.
 - d. No vertebral body fracture was seen. Pars interarticularis were intact.
 - e. Opinion: The above findings from 5a to 5c are consistent with pre-existing degenerative lumbar spondylosis.

Diagnosis of injuries:

Mr Ong suffered from the following injuries during this accident:

1. Whiplash injury of the cervical spine (Quebec Taskforce Grade 2), with aggravation of cervical spondylosis.
2. Back contusion with strain, with aggravation of lumbar spondylosis.
3. Right shoulder contusion with aggravation of his old right shoulder injury sustained in 2009. This had recovered to pre-accident (June 2021) level at the time of my first review.

Treatment and Progress:

Mr Ong's treatment was as follows:

1. Medication for pain.
2. He was sent for Physiotherapy at Physio and Sole Clinic Pte Ltd at Kovan.
3. Light Duties from 29 June 2021 to 17 July 2021 for 19 days was given.

I reviewed him on 13 July 2021, 3 August 2021, and 31 August 2021.

On 13 July 2021, he complained of right hip pain radiating to the knee, and I diagnosed to him to have post-traumatic trochanteric bursitis. This was managed with physiotherapy.

He was given medical leave from 29 June 2021 till 2 July 2021, and 13 July 2021 till 14 July 2021 because he was unable to work because of his pain.

On his last review on 31 August 2021, all his neck, back and right hip pain had resolved with treatment/physiotherapy. I asked him to complete his physiotherapy programme, and he was given an open date for review.

Thank you very much and kind regards.

Dear Sir/Madam,

RE: Medical Report of ONG POH MENG (S7109195C)

According to our medical records, on 18th June 2021 Mr ONG POH MENG was driving when his car sustained a rear-end collision by a taxi. His car then hit the front vehicle.

During the impact, there was a sudden jerk of his neck and body.

After the accident, he felt pain at his posterior neck, right shoulder girdle and right lower back.

There was no syncope and no loss of consciousness.

He came to our 24 hours Walk-in & Emergency Outpatient Department at Mount Alvernia Hospital for consultation on 18th June 2021 at 1250 hours.

On examination, his vital signs were stable & he was alert & conscious.

On inspection there was no obvious bony deformity or asymmetry of his cervical spine.
There was tenderness at his right trapezius muscles; midline point tenderness was not detected over his cervical spine.

His neck movements during flexion, extension, lateral rotation & lateral flexion were limited by pain.

There were no neurological deficits at his upper & lower limbs:
Deep tendon reflexes, muscular strength of his upper & lower limbs were normal and there were no sensory deficits.

There was tenderness at his right shoulder girdle, bruise & swelling were not seen.
Abduction of his right shoulder girdle was limited by muscle pain. Rotational movements were full.

Palpation of the muscles at his right lower back elicited tenderness, there was also restriction of his lumbar spinal movements due to muscle spasm.
Signs & symptoms of nerve root tension were not observed.

There were no signs of head injury & no other body injuries noted.

X ray was not done.

The diagnosis of the injuries sustained due to the road traffic accident was Whiplash injury of his neck (severity grade I, as per Quebec Classification of Whiplash-Associated Disorders), right shoulder girdle strain and right lower back strain.

He was prescribed Arcoxia, Anarex tablets and Fastum gel to relief his pain
No physiotherapy appointment was given.

5 days Outpatient Medical leave was given from 18th to 22nd June 2021.

The injuries sustained were consistent to that of a road traffic accident. There were no permanent disabilities.

RE: Medical Report for Ong Poh Meng S7109195C

Dear Sir/Mdm,

Mr Ong Poh Meng was referred for physiotherapy by Dr Lim Yi Jia (Orthopaedic specialist) after sustaining whiplash associated disorder from a road traffic accident on 18/6/21. To date, he has been seen a total of 6 sessions of physiotherapy by myself.

Mr Ong reported that he was the driver of the vehicle and his wife in the co-driver seat. He was hit from the back by another car. He reported mild neckache several hours later, which got worse a few days later and also having lower back pain too with some sensation loss over the right side of the back. Otherwise, he denies weakness, pins and needles, loss of sensation in the upper and lower extremities, previous history of neck and back problem. By the time she is seeing me, his pain levels have reduced. Prolonged sitting and lifting aggravates his neck and backpain. Pain does not affect his sleep.

Physical examination of the neck and lower back shows soft tissue sensitivity. Right > Left side soreness in the lower back muscles and right sided tenderness and stiffness of the neck muscles, which is consistent with a recent whiplash injury. There are no signs of peripheral nerve/spinal cord injury based on physical exam. Based on his clinical examination and lack of other psychosocial risk factors that may hinder recovery, she is expected to experience significant improvement in pain over a duration of 3 months.

Physiotherapy intervention comprised spinal manual therapy (massage, joint mobilizations), heat therapy, therapeutic exercises to treat the physical impairments associated with his spinal pain. He has been compliant with home exercises and self-care advice and to incorporate a general physical activity program for long term care. He was seen on:

- 6th July 2021
- 10th July 2021
- 15th July 2021
- 24th July 2021
- 7th August 2021
- 24th August 2021

On the last session, he reports that his neck and backpain are improving. He has an upcoming appointment on 28th September.

If you require any further information, please feel free to contact me at bernard@physioandsole.com
