I was driving along KPE tunnel on the 4th lane heading towards Changi direction, it was a 5 lane road. When I was filtered slowing from lane 4 to lane 3, all of a sudden Vehicle B applied emergency brake. As a result, I could not react on time but collided into his car's rear portion. Vehicle B's driver claimed that the front vehicle applied sudden brake, hence he followed suit. After the collision, traffic police arrived at the accident scene & checked no one was injured that they have left shortly. Due to the enormous impact that my car's air bags were being activated, front right portion was badly damaged & front windscreen were smashed too. Due to the severity of the damages, my car required towing service. All involved parties have exchanged particulars for claim and repair purpose.
